

HOW DO WE FIND THEM? Locating someone in detention in the MD/ DC/ VA region

1. Important Information to gather before calling Immigration Customs & Enforcement (ICE), formerly INS, also known as "la migra", or a detention center:

- The person's full name (including all aliases and second names),
- Their date of birth,
- Their country of origin, and
- Their "A" number ("Alien Registration Number.") The A number is on most immigration papers, including a work permit, green card, or any other document that immigration provides. It is also issued at the time of detention for someone who is not yet in the system. It looks like: A999 999 999.

2. Who do I call to find the detained person?

There is no one place that you can call to find someone. You may need to contact some or all of these places.

Local ICE Office of Detention and Removal Operations Offices (ICE-DRO):

Website: <http://www.ice.gov/about/dro/contact.htm>

The website provides information about different local ICE-DRO offices. Start with the facilities closest to the location of the raid or arrest. If you can't find a local office, call the Washington, DC main number ICE headquarters for more information: 202-305-2734. (801 I St, NW, Suite 900 • Washington, DC 20536)

Local nonprofit immigration service providers working in detention:

These groups have the most familiarity with ICE-DRO. They may have good tips.

- Capitol Area Immigrants' Rights (CAIR) Coalition 1612 K Street NW • Suite 204 • Washington, DC 20006 or PO Box 65201 • Washington, DC 20035 (202.331.3320)
 - Catholic Charities – Baltimore • 430 S. Broadway (410.534.8015 or 443-260-4678)
- If person was detained by Frederick County Sheriff's Office, call Lindsay Morris at CASA de Maryland (301-431-4185, ext 233)

Consulates and Embassies:

Consulates are required by law to be notified when one of their nationals is detained (Note: exception to asylum seekers). They should help you find where someone is detained.

Website: <http://www.embassy.org/embassies/>

Local elected officials, such as Mayor, City Council, or Senator.

Ask them to help you make the request to ICE-DRO.

If all else fails, start calling local jails or prisons.

You can find their information on the state website (Department of Corrections) or county websites.

3. What if ICE-DRO will not release the information?

- Get a specific reason for the refusal.
- Explain your role (i.e. community organizer) in the process
- Explain that you are serving as a translator for a family member who cannot speak English (if that is true).
- Ask to speak to a supervisory deportation officer or the ICE Field Office Director (the person who runs the ICE Detention and Removal)

Finding a person detained by ICE is a challenge and you may get several different answers. Be persistent and call frequently.
